

Available November 2013

A BRIEF HISTORY OF MENDIP CAVING

Historic caving in Mendips was often done for utilitarian reasons, as evidenced by the discovery of a lead mine in the Mendips in the 18th century. The Mendips were also the site of a lead mine in the 19th century, and a lead mine in the 20th century. The Mendips were also the site of a lead mine in the 21st century.

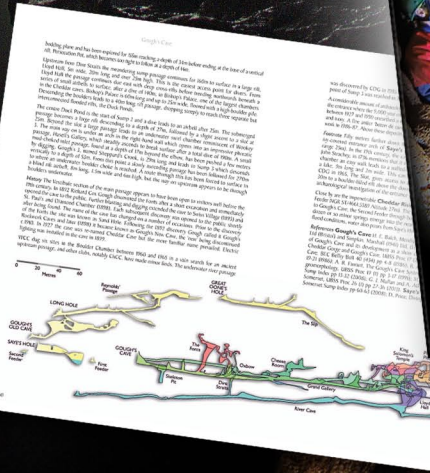

MENDIP UNDERGROUND

A Caver's Guide

Alan Gray · Rob Taviner · Richard Witcombe

Photo by Stu Gardiner

Full colour
34 New entries
485 pages
Hardback

Special pre-order price
£20
(excl p&p)

For more information and to order YOUR copy visit mendipunderground.co.uk

